WORSHIP THE TRIUNE GOD

The worship of the Triune God under the New Covenant is characterized by simplicity. In marked contrast to the complex and multi-layered worship of the Old Covenant – with its richly-robed legacy priesthood, its elaborately beautiful tabernacle and then temple, the sights and smells of its sacrificial system, and its yearly feasts, fasts, festivals, and sabbaths – New Covenant worship is centered around the primary means of grace which Christ set within His Church: prayer and praise, along with the reading and preaching of the Word. Its simplicity, however, does not make this worship easy; our obligations as kings and priests to our God (Exodus 19:6) require us to arrive prepared each Lord’s Day if we are to properly present ourselves “as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God; this is your spiritual worship” (Romans 12:1, HCSB). In the quiet of the moments preceding the start of this morning’s service, seek that final preparation that will allow you to profit more fully from that worship of our God which is offered “in spirit and truth” (John 4:24).

Confession of Sin The Church of Christ

Pastor: O Triune God, we come pleading for the forgiveness of our sins;

People: Forgive the sins that we remember, and the sins that we have forgotten.

Pastor: Forgive our many failures in the face of temptation, and those times when we have been stubborn in the face of correction.

People: Forgive the times when we have been proud of our own achievements and those when we have failed to boast in Your works.

Pastor: Forgive the harsh judgments we have made of others, and the leniency we have shown others.
